Culture in the Team

Micro-Culture Discovery Checklist

A simple tool to help you spot how your team really works, beyond the handbook.

1. Leadership & Decision-Making

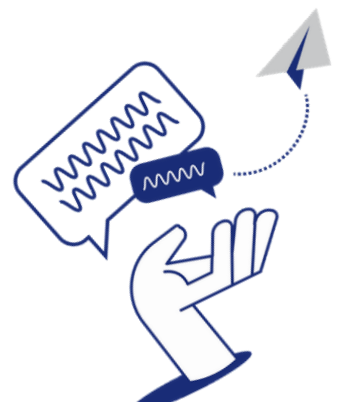

- Who usually leads conversations or meetings?
- Are decisions made together or by one person?
- Do we vote, align, escalate or just act?

Notes:

2. Communication & Feedback

- How is feedback typically shared? (e.g. direct or indirect, public or private, written or verbal?)
- Is disagreement welcome or avoided?
- Are responses more formal or casual?

Notes:

3. Meeting Norms

- How are agendas shared, if at all?
- Is it okay to interrupt or challenge ideas during meetings?
- What happens if someone joins late or misses a meeting?

Notes:

4. Tools & Channels

- Which platforms do we actually use? (Email, Slack)
- Are quick replies expected, or is async OK?
- What kind of tone is typical in written updates?

Notes:

5. Psychological Safety

- Can people speak up with uncertainty or concerns?
- Do mistakes get discussed openly or quietly brushed over?
- Who tends to speak most and who stays quiet?

Notes:

6. Onboarding & Unspoken Rules

- How do new joiners usually learn what's "normal"?
- Are there any unofficial "ways of doing things" you've had to figure out?
- What's something you wish you'd known earlier?

Notes:
